Farm Group Protests U. S. Bid Policy

Release of a unanimously adopted "policy statement" protesting the competitive bid method for government purchases of distressed crops, was authorized by the Santa Clara county section of the California Farm Research and Legislative committee meeting in Campbell November 17, according to Christen Andersen, Coyote orchardist, who is secretary-treasurer of the committee. The statement, sent to Secretary of Agriculture Clinton Anderson who is also president of the Commodity Credit Corporation, charges that the present competitive bid policy for government purchases "has been a contributing factor in breaking prices of distressed crops, whereas its purpose should have been to sustain farm prices by taking price-depressing surpluses off the hands of our farmer."

The committee asks that hereafter the government institute a policy of (1) direct purchases from growers wherever possible, as well as farm cooperatives, processors, and shippers; (2) that prices paid be sufficient to cover cost of production plus a fair profit; (3) that where the government buys from shippers or processors, the seller be required to certify that he has paid the grower this fair production plus a fair profit price, a practice effectively in operation during the war; and (4) that in order to prevent speculation in distressed produce at the expense of the growers, the seller must also certify that he has in his possession and owns the produce which he agrees to sell to the government.

The committee elected Mrs. Frieda Ficke, prune and apricot grower of San Jose, recording and corresponding secretary and authorized Donald Sevrens to represent the group at hearings on Santa Clara county claims to American river water from Folsom dam November 20 at the civic auditorium in San Jose. Construction of this reservoir to its full one million acre feet capacity as a one-step project to include power and other multiple purposes under bureau of reclamation policy was endorsed. Mr. Sevrens was asked to emphasize, in his statement, the fact that unless power revenues were available to the bureau and used to write off some of the cost of the water, farmers in this valley would find the cost of water prohibitive for irrigation, as a result of which agricultural production would be adversely affected.

The committee also endorsed the bureau's comprehensive report for the full development of all tributary and major rivers in the Central Valley which will be presented to the next regular session of Congress as the second phase in Central Valley development.

Great satisfaction was expressed at the excellent progress of the Santa Clara Farmers Cooperative Market, which was promoted by the committee at its October meeting. Mr. Sevrens and Mrs. Ficke, both of whom are members of the market's board of directors, reported that an average of 30 growers are using the market each selling day, and are disposing of produce for which they otherwise would have no outlet.

The market's pricing policy, using a floor of wholesale prices and allowing a mark-up to cover trucking and selling costs, was approved as fair to grower and public alike.

Publisher Seeks To Buy Radio Station KSJO

Application to purchase 100 per cent of the stock of Santa Clara Broadcasting company, owners of Radio Station KSJO in San Jose, was made Thursday to the FCC in Washington by Patrick H. Peabody, owner of the Peabody Publications.

Purchase price of the stock, according to the application, is approximately $75,000.00.

If the proposal is approved by the Federal Communications Commission, it is planned to affiliate the radio station with the Peabody newspapers. Commission action will not be taken until 60 days after filing of the application.

Deadline For Incorporation Registration Nears

Supervisors To Hear Pros and Cons Friday

If the issues involved in incorporating the town of Campbell interest or affect you, be sure to attend the meeting of the Board of Supervisors at 10 a.m. on Friday, November 28, in the chambers of the Supervisors, Santa Clara County Courthouse, San Jose.

Matters affecting the future of Campbell and its boundaries will be discussed.

The Board will grant hearings to both opponents and proponents of the plan.

At last year's election on the same issue, incorporation lost by less than a dozen votes. Since that time, however, a clearer understanding of the incorporation plan has been placed before the people through the Lynch report. This report, prepared by John W. Lynch, an authority on municipal affairs, at the request of the Campbell Chamber of Commerce, stated the aims of the proponents and gave a clear-cut view of the taxation picture. In an analysis of taxation, figures both with and without incorporation, it was shown that very little difference would be made in the tax rate in a comparison of present county rates as against an incorporated city rate.

The Chamber of Commerce, sponsor of the election for incorporation, has gone all out this time in trying to acquaint the residents of Campbell with its plans for the future of Campbell. It has been stated by those in charge of arrangements that they hope to make of the town a residential community unparalleled in California in small city life. All the benefits and quiet living of country life plus the advantages of a metropolitan business area are hoped for. A spokesman for the Chamber pointed out that these advantages have been obtained throughout the dozens of lively and beautiful California small cities he had visited and, in his opinion, there's no reason why Campbell should not rank along with its sister communities.

Interested In Incorporation? Attend Supervisor's Meeting Friday at 10 a. m.

If you live in Campbell, either as a home owner or just plain resident, its future surely interests you. And its future destiny as an outstanding, upstanding city of solid citizens is at stake.

On Friday morning, November 28, at 10 a.m., in the chambers of the Santa Clara County Board of Supervisors a hearing is to be granted all interested parties on the boundaries of the proposed city. All eligible voters who can possibly attend this meeting should do so in their future interests. Transportation will be provided for all desiring this service by calling the secretary of the Chamber of Commerce at Campbell 3335.

UNDERGOES OPERATION

Beth Bravo, 5, daughter of Sgt. W. M. Bravo, of Hickam Field, Hawaii, and Mrs. Bravo, Campbell, underwent an operation Nov. 19 in San Jose General hospital and returned Friday to the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Reese, White Oaks Rd.

Thanksgiving Day

By Lydia Maria Child

Over the river and through the wood
To Grandfather's house we go.
The horse knows the way
To carry the sleigh
Through the white and drifted snow.

Over the river and through the wood;
Oh, how the wind does blow!
It stings the toes
And bites the nose
As over the ground we go.

Over the river and through the wood
To have a first-rate play.
Hear the bells ring
"Ting-a-ling-ding."
Hurrah for Thanksgiving Day!

Over the river and through the wood
Trot fast, my dapple-gray—
Spring over the ground
Like a hunting-hound,
This is Thanksgiving Day.

Over the river and through the wood
And straight through the barn-yard gate—
He seems to go
Extremely slow—
It is so hard to wait!

Over the river and through the wood—
Now Grandmother's cap I spy;
Hurrah for the fun!
Is the pudding done?
Hurrah for the pumpkin pie!

O'Connor Drive Reaches Quarter Million Mark

The proposed new $3,000,000 O'Connor hospital was another step Members of the campaign's centers in the field intensified efforts to meet their goal of $1,000,000 to $1,500,000 before Jan. 1.

More than a quarter-million dollars has been contributed toward the new O'Connor's so far, according to campaign officials. This came from 107 business firms, corporations, and individuals throughout the valley.

Members of the campaign's central committee, headed by Chairman David C. Kirby, met again Tuesday, Nov. 25, to check progress of the various divisions within the committee and to maintain the speed and tempo of the campaign.

The campaign gained momentum last week, when approximately 300 business and civic leaders from a score of cities and communities in this area attended a banquet in San Jose, at which time the severe lack of hospital facilities in Santa Clara valley was discussed.

Hospitals in this area have a rated capacity of 735 patients, but actually are made to accommodate 800 patients at the present time, according to medical authorities studying the problem. They explain the critical shortage of hospital facilities by pointing out the population throughout the state has increased greatly, while the patient capacity of the hospitals has remained the same.

Health officials have estimated that this area should have not less than 1100 general hospital beds in order to meet minimum safety standards.

The new O'Connor's will be an eight-story, ultra-modern structure, and will have complete facilities for 300 patients. The public is being asked to supply only half the necessary capital to build it. The Sisters of Charity, who have administered O'Connor's without profit for 58 years, will match any sum up to $1,500,000 which the public gives.

YEAST DESSERTS

Union Service Thanksgiving

The union service will include a sermon by Rev. Cyril Grant of the Pacific School of Religion, Berkeley.

Grammar School To Meet Dec. 2

Members of the Campbell Union Grammar School PTA will meet Tuesday at 2:30 p.m. Dec. 2 in the school auditorium under the direction of Mrs. J. R. Longfellow, president.

Mrs. Ray Fish, from the What Not will speak on Children's books and members of Mrs. N. L. Ingram's third grade class will give a Spanish play. The choral group of the school will give a selection of Christmas carols. Hostess for the day will be mothers of the 6th grade. Refreshments will be served after the business session.

THE SPACE USUALLY OCCUPIED BY THE COLUMN — "SIGNS OF THE TIMES" IS USED THIS WEEK FOR THE FOLLOWING MESSAGE:

CHRISTIANITY and THANKSGIVING -- HAND-MAIDENS OF GOOD-WILL . . .

A SMALL VOICE, TO A LUSTY, BOUNTIFUL LAND; NOT, WE HOPE, "CRYING IN THE WILDERNESS."

All over America on this Thanksgiving Day of 1947 the lamp of Freedom and Plenty, brightly gleams.

Not easily or lightly was this condition gained. All the evil powers that man could invent have been invoked against us—first to forestall a "Thanksgiving" and then to take from us a Thanksgiving Day.

We, the people of America, stand on the threshold of Destiny -- Destiny with a capital "D." Let us express our thanks not alone to a fertile and abundant land, not to the astute powers of our leaders, not to our own individual abilities of achievement, but rather let us each and every one give pause on this good day for tribute to a higher power, an Almighty power of guidance.

Let us remember, in our day of thanks, that in other parts of the world men have no cause for thanks giving. They are lifting up their hands to heaven—but not in prayerful thanks. They cry for mercy, for relief from dreadful want. Children and innocents starve in every part of our world.

If we really mean to be grateful to a providence that has bestowed the blessings of food and comfort upon us let us speak our hearts in deeds and action that others may find cause for a Thanksgiving Day.

The Freedom Train, loaded with hundreds of cars of food from our bountiful land, is one example of our gratefulness and our generosity.

We Americans gave unstintingly to that cause. That food is not, and will not be missed from our tables, but what a blessing it will be to those who have been groveling in alleys and refuse dumps for just barely enough to keep body and soul together.

Too easily can we assume the attitude that it is not our fault if the rest of the world has ills. Well, my friends, it will be our fault if the rest of the world disintegrates into groveling, snarling creatures of want and despair.

The crime will be ours if the Four Horsemen ride the troughs of a humbled and a broken humanity. Let us have the greatest concern for the making of a new world. A world of Freedom from want and intolerance. Out with the bitterness. Out with the jealousies and hatreds. We have proved to ourselves what man can do with raw land. Let us show the way to all mankind. And let us do so by first exhibiting our Christianity by giving to our very limit of the excess of food and clothing that we undeniably have in our fair land.

Charity thy name is Noble. If you would give, in no matter how small a way, to an organization that will see to it that some crying soul in this battered world receives your help, please contact the editors of this paper. We will guarantee that the proper relief organization receives your gift of food or clothing. And remember charity comes from a grateful heart.

Sincerely, a Happy Thanksgiving.

CAMPBELL-LOS GATOS GAME SLATED FOR THURSDAY A.M.

Campbell's Bucs are making a final bid for the league championship Thanksgiving Day when they tangle with the Los Gatos Wildcats in Los Gatos. Campbell, with four wins and a tie, is in second place, just one point behind the 'Cats. Because of the tie on their record, the Buccaneers must win in order to capture the pennant, a tie score won't give them enough points.

An additional 3000 seats have been erected to take care of the estimated huge crowd which will gather to watch the teams in their play for the pennant.

Los Gatos High school's Wildcats, seeking their third consecutive Santa Clara Valley Athletic League football championship, are back in first place in league standings, following last Friday's 14-7 win over Fremont. Coach Fred Canrinus' big Orange machine can win the championship by either a victory or a tie score with Campbell.

All other SCVAL teams concluded their league slates last Friday. Santa Clara humbled Mountain View 32-0 and Washington High of Centerville levelled Gilroy 55-0. San Jose Tech scored a surprise 21-0 win over Campbell in an exhibition contest.

HISTORY OF CAMPBELL

By T. A. CUTTING

William Campbell secured a farm two miles south of Santa Clara and planted grain on what had once been mission land. The ranchers worked in groups with guns at had for protection against the Californians who made trouble for some time after the fighting was supposed to have ceased. Benjamin, after threshing the grain with a machine made by his father, made a three-day trip to San Francisco to sell it. While returning, he was robbed at dusk in the vicinity of Mayfield by two Spaniards.

William Campbell surveyed the town lots of San Jose and for some time conducted a mercantile business there. He and his two sons later established a sawmill at Long Bridge, two miles above Saratoga on the creek which still bears their name, and operated it until 1849. He spent most of his last years with his son, Benjamin, at Campbell, and died in 1855.

Benjamin Campbell, founder of the town of Campbell, was born in Kentucky, 1826, and was twenty years of age when he accompanied his parents across the plains. He drove one of the teams and walked much of the way. In California he assisted his father in his various enterprises until 1849; then, instead of joining the gold rush, he returned to Missouri by way of the Isthmus and stayed there for more than a year. In 1851 he went to California the second time and purchased the farm which eventually became the site of Campbell. He then went back to Missouri and married Mary Rucker.

In 1852 he again crossed the plains, this time bringing with him his wife, her father and mother, the Lovells and the Finleys. Newton Finley, a member of the party and at the time a boy of ten, gives the following account of the trip: "We took about six months for the trip from Saline county, Missouri, and traveled about 12 to 15 miles a day. We generally rested on Sunday, unless we had to keep going to reach some particular point. Although a mere boy, I rode a mule and herded cattle all the time on the trip. My father, James Washington Finley, and my mother, Mrs. Margaret Jane Finley, rode in a carriage drawn by mules. We had quite a herd of cattle, and the wagons were drawn by oxen. There were about 45 in the party.

"We rose about sunrise, and had breakfast, and as soon as breakfast was over we would start on our way. We would be under way by 8 o'clock. We would travel all day and stop usually about sundown, to prepare the camp and the cattle would graze all night.

"I do not remember that we had any social recreation on the trip, but I was a small boy and probably would not have attended any. But as I remember, everyone was pretty tired at the end of the day, and after supper we would go to bed. There was nothing else to do.

"The captain of the party was Ben Campbell, who had already made the trip in 1846, and who therefore knew the route well. We had guards around the camp all night, in case of Indian attacks, but we had no trouble. As I remember them, the Indians all seemed quite friendly to the white men. I don't remember seeing more than three or four buffalo on the whole trip.

"The main object of the party was to escape from the slavery atmosphere of Missouri.

"Ben Campbell was my mother's brother."

POLAR RENDEZVOUS

The far-flung activities of American submarines during World War II that brought the undersea craft to the home waters of the Japanese Empire in the van of the fighting fronts, are continued into peacetime as the submarines, like the USS Sennet (above), penetrate the Arctic and Antarctic. Submarines are important units of the Navy's postwar expeditions and projects probing the mysteries of distant oceans for scientific data to be used for future planning.

Designed '47 Seal

The 1947 Christmas Seal was designed by Raymond H. Lufkin of Tenafly, N.J., nationally known freelance artist, typographer and illustrator of children's books. During World War II he won a special citation from the Treasury Department for his war bond posters.

Christmas Seal Sale Begins

The 41st annual Christmas Seal Sale got under way last Monday with the mail delivery of Christmas Seals to 70,000 residents in the county. Sale will continue until Christmas.

The goal of the campaign is $50,000, the minimum needed, according to Dr. Charles A. Fernish, association president, to carry on the work of the association during the coming year.

"The Santa Clara County Tuberculosis Association is one of 3000 voluntary association throughout the country affiliated with the National Tuberculosis association which began the sale of Seals last Monday to finance a well organized campaign against tuberculosis," Fernish said.

Funds raised in this county will be used to maintain the present county-wide free chest X-ray service. This service will be augmented in the near future by the installation at the County Hospital of a second miniature X-ray unit owned by the Santa Clara unit and being loaned to the hospital for the X-raying of all hospital and clinic admissions. Another addition to the associations' health services will be the hiring of a full-time qualified health educator.

Maderis Five Wins Over Zebras

Maderis' Campbell Californians trotted its class out on the San Jose gym floor for the first time in the 1947-48 season and took measure of a hard-fighting team of San Jose Zebras 47 to 41.

Big Jim Bell, 7 foot center, played his first game with the Maderis crew and led the team to victory with 18 points. Kay Borg, looking better than ever since joining the Campbell squad, powered his way to 16 points. Brother Paul made good for 10.

The food men will have four new players this year backed up by the veteran guards Al Carter and rosy cheeked Byron Tonsacia, the sparkplug of last years championship team.

More than a half million new horsepower from giant steam electric plants will be added in 1948 to this company's interconnected electric system of both hydro and steam powerhouses.

The first big block of additional power is scheduled to come on the lines in the spring of 1948, from the new Kern Steam Plant near Bakersfield. This steam-electric plant, costing $25,600,000, will generate 235,000 horsepower of electricity.

In the fall of 1948, an additional 298,000 horsepower will come from Station "P" Steam Plant at Hunters Point on San Francisco Bay. This is a $23,700,000 construction project that will increase the plant's present generating capacity from 62,000 to 360,000 horsepower.

Elsewhere on our system the company is driving ahead on other projects—hydro plants, gas lines, substations, transmission lines, etc.—an expansion of facilities that will cost a total of $350,000,000.

This huge construction program was started with a rush as soon as the war was over to meet and keep ahead of the growing demands for gas and electricity in Northern and Central California.

By 1951 P. G. and E.'s electric power capacity will exceed 3,500,000 horsepower and provide our customers with one of the greatest regional power pools in the Nation.

LOCAL EDUCATORS CONTRIBUTE TO NEA GUIDE BOOK

Special to the Press:

Washington, Nov. 24—Facing squarely what it terms the "moral crisis before us today," the National Education Association's department of elementary school principals released today a 351-page report, "Spiritual Values in the Elementary School," directed toward perfecting the teaching of human values in the nation's elementary schools.

Campbell is represented in the group which published the report by William C. Henley, 205 South Winchester, and Dorothy Merriam, 205 South Winchester, who are striving to inspire elementary schools to emphasize these values.

The report, in the form of a practical case-book guide, is developed upon the theme that spiritual values, good or bad, are constantly being developed by the grammar-school child. The elementary school must channel this development so that important spiritual values result.

As a guide for educators, the following are cited as responsibilities of the school: (1) teachers and principal must be aware that some kind of learning is going on constantly either to build up or tear down spiritual values; (2) those responsible for the school must, therefore, develop an atmosphere that will help the spirits of children to grow into something fine.

Included are case histories of experiments and experiences of teachers in 20 states dealing with specific problems in the development of spiritual values.

man, 46 South Third St., both members of the NEA department of elementary school principals.

Defining as "spiritual values" the understanding of responsibility to society, dignity of fellow-man, and broader sense of artistic and ethical appreciation, the report

Interior Modes... by Reno

A bobby-soxer's bedroom need not be an incongruous collection of pictures, costume dolls and prom invitations. It can be made feminine and organized by a few simple and clever arrangements. Here, shelves were added to one wall to accommodate a collection of favorite dolls and tea cups. A window seat was built under the recessed window to make still more storage room. The grown up touch is developed in the dressing table and mirror. As a final touch of femininity, fluffly dotted-swiss curtains adorn the windows and a matching ruffle was attached to the lower edge of the window shade.

Funeral Services Held For Shane

Funeral services were held Wednesday for Earl E. Shane, 61, who died suddenly Sunday a short distance from Johnny's Place on E. Campbell Ave. Mr. Shane, who had been drinking during the afternoon, went outside about 4 p.m. and lay down under a tree.

An autopsy was performed by Deputy Coroner Joseph Sober of the Melvin Mortuary in Los Gatos, who reported that death was due to heart failure. His empty wallet was found nearby although the bar tender reported that he had changed a $20 bill for the man shortly before he left the bar. His

OLD-FASHIONED THANKSGIVING

Turkey and cranberries, and a table setting of harvest fruits are all symbolic of Thanksgiving, and this arrangement of small pumpkins and gourds adds grapes and persimmons for color contrast. Candlesticks in keeping are made from big rosy apples by cutting a hole into the core and whittling until the candle fits the hole. Equally traditional on this holiday is hot mulled wine, offered for refreshment when friends come to call. Sugar and spice and everything nice are combined in this
